

MapBasic and ProViewer v10.5 now available to Download

Following the release of MapInfo Professional version 10.5, you can now download both MapBasic and MapInfo ProViewer version 10.5 from the Pitney Bowes Business Insight website.

MapBasic enables you to automate repetitive tasks, program new functionality or even develop complete applications in MapInfo Professional. This download includes a large number of sample applications, complete with source code, for you to learn from. For those new to programming, MapBasic is a straightforward, BASIC-type programming language. For individuals with programming experience who want to integrate MapBasic into an existing application, this is done using the Integrated Mapping feature.

MapInfo ProViewer is a complement to MapInfo Professional and is an easy-to-use map viewing tool.

Both of these products are free to download from www.pbinsight.eu/uk/
